

Bachelor of Engineering/Bachelor of Laws (BE/LLB) 2008 Course code 0094

The law component requires that students complete 156 points of study, including 12 compulsory units and a further 84 points of elective units. The engineering component requires that students complete 144 to 156 points of study (depending on specialisation chosen), including a specialisation in one of the following branches of engineering: chemical engineering, civil engineering, electrical and computer systems engineering, industrial engineering and engineering management, materials engineering, mechanical engineering and mechatronics engineering.

For specific course advice regarding the engineering component, please see course advisers in the Faculty of Engineering.

The units listed below are known as the 'quasi-compulsory' units. Students do not need to complete these units to obtain their LLB so technically, they are elective units. However, students who wish to practice law in Victoria must complete these units as part of their law electives(*):

LAW4169 Equity LAW4171 Corporations law LAW5125 Lawyers, ethics and society
LAW4170 Trusts LAW5104 Civil procedure LAW5159 Evidence
